Dear Sir/Madam,

Greetings from Indian Association of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (IAPPD)!

The Indian Association of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (IAPPD), a 48-year-old national autonomous non-profit organization founded by the late Shri Sat Paul Mittalji, MP, for the people's elected representatives from Panchayat to Parliament (A brief about IAPPD is attached).

We are delighted to extend an invitation to your esteemed institution to participate in the 11th Annual Sat Paul Mittal National Inter-College and Inter-University Debate Competition 2027 on Population, Development and Environment.

In the preceding years, this competition has become a prestigious platform for fostering intellectual engagement and showcasing the exceptional debating skills of students from across India. We have consistently received enthusiastic participation and widespread commendation for the high standards of debate.

As a premier national event, this competition aims to bring together the brightest young minds from across India to engage in a spirited exchange of ideas on a contemporary and thought-provoking theme.

To recognize and reward the brightest debating minds, the competition offers substantial prizes at both inter-college and national inter-university levels.

The Competition will be conducted in two stages:

1. Inter-College Level:

Each participating University will organize an inter-college debate among students from its affiliated colleges. The winning team, comprising two students—one speaking in favour of the motion and the other against the motion—will be nominated by the University to participate in the National Level Debate.

2. National Inter-University Level:

The winning teams nominated by the participating Universities at the Inter-College Level will compete against each other at the National Inter-University Level to determine the national winners.

At the national level, the winning and the runner-up university teams and individual winners will be suitably awarded.

This year's competition is scheduled to be held in first week of March at the Auditorium of IAPPD, 1/6, Siri Institutional Area, August Kranti Marg, New Delhi-110049.

For more details on the competition, including eligibility, format, prizes, and other guidelines, please find the comprehensive information attached. We believe this is an excellent opportunity for your students to showcase their exceptional oratory skills on a national platform.

We request you to kindly confirm your university's participation and willingness to host an internal college-level debate.

We eagerly anticipate your university's enthusiastic participation and look forward to a memorable and enriching debate competition.

Best regards,

Manmohan Sharma
Executive Secretary, IAPPD

Indian Association of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (IAPPD)

A Brief

Indian Association of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (IAPPD), a 48 years old national autonomous non-profitable organization founded by Late Shri Sat Paul Mittalji, MP, for the people's elected representatives from Panchayat to Parliament irrespective of their party affiliations, is now actively working under the Chairmanship of Prof. P.J. Kurien, Former Deputy Chairman, Rajya Sabha, in the field of population stabilization programmes, in co-operation with Ministry of Health and Family Welfare/WHO/UNFPA/UNICEF and other UN Agencies.

IAPPD is also working very closely with Asian Association of Parliamentarians on Population and Development (AFPPD), Japan; Asian Population and Development Association (APDA), Japan – having a network of 35 countries in Asia Pacific and Central Asia; International Planned Parenthood Federation, London; and European Parliamentary Forum, Belgium.

During these years, it has gone much ahead in motivating/sensitizing the elected representatives (Parliamentarians, Legislators & Panchayati Raj members) and through them to reach the masses regarding alarming increase in population and consequent problems facing India. IAPPD has also been instrumental in convincing the Indian States to give advice to their eligible couples to adopt small family through practices of contraceptives.

In order to sustain the interest of Elected Representatives in population and development activities, the IAPPD from time to time organizes orientations, workshops, seminars, meetings, study tours and conferences, conducting research studies and preparing thematic papers. The events on women empowerment, ageing, maternal and child health, respectable deliveries, etc. were inaugurated/addressed by the Hon'ble Presidents of India, Vice Presidents of India, Prime Ministers, Speakers of Lok Sabha, Health Ministers of India and other Ministers of Government of India and State Governments. IAPPD also nominates Parliamentarians/Legislators/Members of Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs) to the international meetings/conferences which gives them exposure and an opportunity to interact with others.
