Preamble: -

The National Education Policy (NEP)-2020 based on the new opportunities the primary goal of social work is to improve people's lives and help them meet their basic and complex needs. Course Social Work is a professional and academic discipline that promotes social change, social development, social cohesion, and the empowerment of individuals, groups, and communities. It aims to enhance human well-being and help people meet their basic needs, especially those who are vulnerable, marginalized, or facing social problems. Social work is based on the principles of social justice, human rights, collective responsibility, and respect for diversity. It seeks to improve the quality of life of individuals and society through planned interventions and supportive services.

Social Group Work is one of the primary methods of social work that utilizes group experiences to help individuals grow, develop, and solve their problems. Through purposeful group activities and interactions, individuals learn cooperation, leadership, communication, and social responsibility. Social group work encourages members to participate actively, share experiences, and support one another, thereby promoting personal growth and social adjustment. It is widely used in schools, communities, hospitals, correctional institutions, and welfare organizations.

Professional Social Work refers to the organized and scientific practice of social work carried out by trained and qualified social workers. It involves the application of professional knowledge, skills, values, and ethics to assist individuals, families, groups, and communities in overcoming challenges and improving their social functioning. Professional social workers adhere to ethical standards, maintain confidentiality, and use evidence-based approaches to address social issues. The profession contributes significantly to social welfare, community development, and social justice in society.
